

ARRL Field Day 2021... Alone...

ARRL has extended the COVID-19 Rule Waivers for Field Day 2021<sup>1</sup>.

You may remember this page about ARRL Field Day 2020 results from the December 2020 Watts News<sup>2</sup> club newsletter; I know I do! Due to COVID-19 I operated alone (or maybe with 93 new friends) in my garage using my battery-powered station and home-made dipole antenna in the trees.

If you are like me and still afraid to gather with others for Field Day, there is good news.

Again, this year ARRL is allowing us to operate our individual Field Day stations and have our points applied to the total points of a club station of our choice (of course, that's W7SU for anybody reading this). Class D Home Stations are even allowed to count contacts with other Class D Home Stations, which was not allowed prior to the Covid-19 rule waivers.

To qualify for the rule waiver this year, you must limit transmit power to 150 watts or less. The good part is that you get a 2X points multiplier for using 150 Watts or less.

It's simple... when you go to the ARRL website to submit your Field Day Entry Form and log<sup>3</sup>, just enter the club name in the 'Club or Group Name' field on the form like shown below. If you use the paper form and mail it in, the 'Club or Group Name' blank should be there so you can write it in.

2021 Field Day Entry
Attention! Entries for the 2021 Field Day are not being accepted until its start at: 2021-06-26 18:00:00
Complete this form to submit your Field Day Entry to the ARRL for review and tabulation. You can access a help page by clicking on (?) next to an item on the form. Note: You can select documentation files for upload as you complete this form, or you can upload the documents at a later time. Each document can not be larger than 6 MB.
